RAMBLINGS FROM THE PRESIDENT

Well a new year is upon us, I hope all of you had a great Christmas and good start of the year 2011. Linda and I went to the White Mountains for 2 days at Christmas and stayed home for New Year's.

MMRG had the annual Board Meeting and 2011 officer election in Phoenix December 4. The results are in the Secretary report below.

Those of you who have any thing that you think could be used in this newsletter, items of interest, trivia, pictures and items for sale, please send them to me for the next quarterly news letter. They can be sent any time as I have a file that I go to when writing the newsletter. My e-mail address is. k7pof@verizon.net

The 147.000 loaner repeater is functioning well with the exception of the slightly reduced power that is produced by the regular repeater. However on the flip side of things those that used to be really noisy into the repeater are better now even if they don't hear the repeater as well. I guess turnabout is fair play! The weather has delayed returning the regular repeater to the mountain.

The current MMRG roster is at the end of this news letter. I have taken it from the Website <http://mingusmountain.org> Any changes or corrections that you find please send them to Jerry Roberts KB7CN. jroberts@q.com

Secretary Pat K7PAT

Hello to all,

Now that the holidays are behind us I hope the New Year is starting out well for all of you. It has been a cold one for sure. We even had snow in our backyard in Anthem. With the added rain the desert should be in full color this Spring. Hope to see you all at our annual membership meeting and potluck in Chino Valley on May 7th. Thanks to Linda and Bob for hosting again this year. We always have a great time.

147.000 early morning roundtable

Every morning between 6:00 AM and 7:00 am there is an open round table on the 147.00 repeater which at that time also has links to 70 CM in Phoenix and a VOIP program called CQ-100 which is a licensed ham only internet link to the world. Every one is welcome to join in.

One of the stations (Loren AE7CG) also works 20 meter QRP (very low power) CW. Recently he was involved in a contest. Here are his results as well as pictures of his little transmitter and very low antenna (under the eaves of his house).

On HF, I am only on 20M CW with an MFJ Cub, running 2 watts to a low dipole that is strung under the eaves on the back of my house

During the recent CQ Magazine-sponsored North American QSO Party (NAQP) on January 8, 2011, I was able to work CA, OR, and AK in the West; in the South, LA, AR, TX, FL, and TN; in the Middle West, MN and IN; and in New England, NH-- for a total of 11 states. I use a good, old, and reliable J38 straight key. 73 de Loren AE7CG

Trivia
Do you remember this?
CA-1 Conelrad Alarm
CONELRAD

Conelrad (CONtrol of ELectronic RADiation) was set up in 1951 to provide warnings to the public during the Cold War. Upon alert, most stations would go off the air. Each remaining station was to move to either 640 or 1240 kHz, and alternate with other such local stations, supposedly so no enemy Direction Finding equipment could lock onto locations in the US. Of course, most stations were not really that far apart, in air miles, so it was not a very useful system. Actual activations were apparently very few. Even Ham operators were required to shut down in a Conelrad alert.

From 1957 ARRL Handbook

Effective January 2 1957, the "conelrad" rules became part of the amateur regulations. Essentially, compliance with the rules consists of monitoring a broadcast station-standard band, F.M. or TV-either continuously or at intervals of not exceeding 10 minutes, during periods in which the amateur transmitter is in use. On receipt of a Conelrad Alert all transmitting must cease, except as authorized in 12.193 and 12.194 of the FCC regulations.

Example of Conelrad Alarm By Heathkit

- Use with any receiver for Conelrad alarm
- Automatically turns off transmitter and gives visual signal
- Heavy-duty, 6-ampere relay
- Sensitivity control to adjust to various AVC levels The model CA-1 Conelrad Alarm is a simple, easy to build device that will allow you to fully comply with FCC regulations without a large dollar investment. Use it with any radio receiver (AC-DC, transformer operated, or battery powered) as long as the receiver has AVC. When the monitored broadcast station goes off the air, the Heathkit model CA-1 automatically removes AC power from your transmitter, and lights a red indicator on the front panel. A manual "reset" button reactivates the transmitter again. An external alarm device such as a bell, gong, etc. can be used in place of the transmitter if desired. The CA-1 features its own heavy-duty six-ampere relay, a thyratron tube to activate the relay, and its own built-in power supply with transformer isolation.

A neon lamp on the front panel of the conelrad alarm verifies the fact that it is in operation, by indicating the presence of B+ in the alarm circuit. Very simple to install. Your transmitter plugs into the AC receptacle on the CA-1, and a cable connects from the conelrad alarm to the receiver AVC circuit. A sensitivity control adjusts to various AVC levels. Receiver volume control can be turned up or down without affecting alarm operation. Build the Heathkit "automatic" Conelrad Alarm Kit in one evening and comply with FCC regulations now! A list of all Conelrad key stations is given in the construction manual.
